SKYARTS

Fine Arts

Pre-College Program

JULY 8-19, 2024

Do you enjoy being creative and making unique works of art? Want to explore fine art principles within the beauty of nature's studio this summer?

Join us for an engaging, fun and informative pre-college program that opens you to new realms of imagination and artistic techniques in a breathtaking landscape.

Open to all high school students from freshman through senior year, Kean's SKYARTS summer program is being held at Kean Skylands, located on over 40 acres of protected land in rural Jefferson Township, New Jersey.

SPONSORED BY Kean University, School of Fine and Performing Arts

SESSIONS

Enroll for two week sessions, with daily programming 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. weekdays. SKYARTS is led by Kean's world-class fine arts faculty, who share their creative expertise and provide an inspiring pre-college experience for all participants.

In both weeks, students will have an opportunity to present their work, sharpening their ability to articulate what their art means to them.

WEEK ONE

Finding Your Natural Artist

CONCEPT: Learn about mixed-media artistry and forage the Skylands woods and grounds for natural resources and found objects to incorporate into a week-long art project.

WEEK TWO

Landscape Drawing and Painting

CONCEPT: Explore the natural environment of the Skylands campus and select a spot to highlight in either a landscape drawing or painting while receiving expert guidance.

PRICING & AGE

- Registration before Feb. 29, 2024: $750
- Registration after March 1, 2024: $800
